Submission Guidelines for
Journal of Tikapur Multiple Campus (Vol.8, 2025)

Authors submitting the articles must follow the guidelines below:

1. Articles should have 4500 to 7000 words (excluding appendices).
2. Times New Roman in 12-point font size with single spaces is to be followed. Pagination should be 1 inch on all sides on an A4 paper.
3. APA 7th edition style should be followed.
4. The author's name, affiliation, and email address should be on a separate page (first page), and the title (maximum 12 words), the abstract (150 to 250 words), the keywords (4-6 words) and the article should start from the second page.
5. Tables, charts, and graphs should be numbered and clearly visible in black and white
6. If there is any acknowledgment or declaration, it should be mentioned before references.
7. Footnotes are not allowed.
8. Authors will be responsible for plagiarism. Plagiarized writing from any author might result in canceling that particular author from submitting writing in this journal later.
9. The article should have at least adequate references in MS Word file form.
10. The research-based articles should have the following format:
 - Title (within 12 words, specific and informative, reflecting the main issue/theme)
 - Abstract (between 150 to 250 words with background information on the issue or problem being researched, purpose or hypothesis, methods, main finding, and the implication/conclusion)
 - Keywords (4-6 words, should be descriptive, the title words should not be repeated here)
 - Introduction (should raise the research problem/issue with a concise background, state the context, problem statement with its significance or rationale of the study, and the objectives/research questions/hypothesis)
 - Literature Review (Optional as it may be the part of the Introduction; theoretical, thematic, policy, and empirical review providing a description, summary, and critical evaluation of the works in relation to the research problem being investigated with the research gap. The review of the literature should show adequate knowledge in the area and should be developed thematically.

- Methods and Procedures (research method, research design, population and sample/participants sampling strategy, research site/context, tools, and procedure of analysis and interpretation)
 - Results (What? summarize the main findings of your research with statistics/tables/figures or themes with textual data/verbatim/quotes/artifacts or both if mixed methods)
 - Discussion (Why that happened? Interpret and describe the significance of your findings/results with critique and arguments/counterarguments linking with relevant theories and previous studies. A combined Results and Discussion section is often appropriate.)
 - Conclusion (it is not a summary; derive conclusion from the results and discussion being reflective, implication, recommendation for future research related to your topic; no references)
 - References (APA 7th edition)
12. However, theoretical articles or literature review papers can have varying thematic sub-headings in the body part with Introduction and Conclusion followed by References.
13. The submissions must be original and not have been submitted to any other journal simultaneously.
14. The submitted manuscripts will be screened to determine whether they meet the journal's requirements before peer reviewing. The originality will be checked from the Editors' desk and the similarity index above 20% will be rejected before sending to the reviewers.
